PURPOSE OF CALL
The ZonMw Gender and Health Knowledge Program will provide Gender in Research Fellowships for PhD-students and post-doctoral researchers to attend the Gender and Health course and participate in the Gender in Research workshops at the Erasmus Summer Programme (ESP) from 17-21 August 2020 in Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

The Erasmus Summer Programme provides hundreds of students, researchers and health professionals with the opportunity to boost their scientific careers. It provides cutting-edge courses and research training in quantitative medical and health research.

ZonMw (The Netherlands Organisation for Health Research and Development) funds health research in the Netherlands and promotes the actual use of knowledge this research produces.

To realize quality health care, a sex and gender dimension needs to be integrated in all aspects of health research and clinical practice. In the final week of the Erasmus Summer Programme (17-21 August 2020), ESP and ZonMw offer a joint programme to further knowledge and skills in gender, health and research through the Gender and Health course (course code ESP78) and Gender in Research workshops (course code ESP79).

The Gender in Research workshops will focus on advancing young researchers' skills in performing health research from a sex and gender perspective. The workshop will bring together guest speakers and mentors with expertise in sex and gender research, as well as several funding agencies. Participants will be presented on the basics of the different stages of research and how to include sex and gender considerations at each stage of the research cycle.

The Gender and Health course brings together experts from a multitude of disciplines and provides participants with resources that will assist them in developing and strengthening gender-equal clinical care and research programmes. The course will focus on the critical issues for women and men through the life-cycle, challenges of integrating sex and gender from the health research and policy perspectives, as well as strategies to address these challenges.
REQUIREMENTS

Eligible candidates

- Applicants for the Gender in Research Fellowship must be registered in a doctoral programme or be at the post-doctoral degree stage.
  - Applicants at the post-doctoral stage can only apply within 5 years after completing their PhD. Extension is possible in case of maternity/parental leave. If you wish to apply for extension, please contact ZonMw before submitting your application.

- This funding opportunity is open to Dutch as well as non-Dutch applicants. Applicants do not need to be registered in a Dutch doctoral programme, be affiliated with a Dutch research institution and/or residing in The Netherlands to apply for this fellowship.

- It is mandatory for Gender in Research Fellowship recipients to attend both the ESP Gender and Health course (course code ESP78) and the Gender in Research workshops (course code ESP79).

- Recipients of an Erasmus Summer Programme Fellowship are not eligible for a Gender in Research Fellowship.

* Please note: The total spots available for the ESP Gender in Research Workshops is 40. ESP will reserve 20 spots for the Gender in Research Fellowship recipients in the Gender and Health course and the Gender in Research workshops.

Sums available

The total funds available for this funding opportunity is € 40,000, enough to fund approximately 20 fellowships valued at max. € 2,000 each.

ZonMw will pay the registration fees (valued at up to € 1,000) as well as book accommodation including breakfast at The Student Hotel in Rotterdam from 16-22 August 2020 (valued at € 360) for each successful applicant directly with the respective parties. These costs are part of the awarded € 2,000 and will therefore reduce the amount available for additional expenses.

The following additional expenses are considered eligible for funding received through this funding opportunity:

- Travel for applicant
- Visa expenses (if applicable)
Successful applicants will be able to reclaim these additional expenses up to the total fellowship amount of € 2,000. This means that recipients will need to pay these costs (e.g. travel costs) in advance. The expenses claim form will be included with the positive decision notice for successful applicants.

The following expenses are not eligible for funding through this funding opportunity:

- Passport expenses (excluding visa expenses if applicable)
- Travel companion
- Expenses such as incidentals, room service or internet charges

Further conditions

The program for the week is demanding and includes several (facultative) evening sessions in addition to the ESP Gender and Health course and the Gender in Research workshop. There will therefore be no exceptions made for Gender in Research Fellowship recipients with regards to ZonMw booking their accommodation; it is mandatory for all successful applicants to stay at The Student Hotel during the week.

The fellowship will be paid in Euros. If the fellowship doesn’t cover all costs to attend the ESP Gender and Health course and the Gender in Research workshop, remaining costs are at the recipient’s own expense.

If a recipient of the fellowship wishes to prolong his/her stay beyond the course dates specified above, it would be at his/her own expense.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Please use the provided Application form for your application. Applications using other formats will not be considered for funding.

Applications will be evaluated and assessed according to the following criteria:

- Interest in health research of the applicant (derived from CV and motivation)
- Quality and promise of the applicant (derived from CV) in their specific field of study, compared to researchers at an equivalent level of study.
- Ambition and motivation of the applicant for participation in the Gender in Research workshop
- Potential importance of sex and gender considerations in the field of research of the applicant
• Clear description of the planned knowledge utilization and action plan to allow the outcomes of participation in the Gender in Research workshop benefit future research of the applicant.
